Guilty of Murder.

Czolgosz Will Die In the Electric Chair.

The Jury Returned a Verdict in a Few Minutes, Sealing the Prisoner's Fate.

THE PRISONER REMAINS CALM.

Leon F. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, was found guilty of murder in the first degree last Tuesday by the jury in the Supreme Court at Buffalo, N. Y. The trial consumed eight hours and twenty-five minutes, and covered a period of two days. Practically all of the time was occupied in presenting evidence, which proved conclusively the guilt of the prisoner. The attorneys for the defense did not offer any testimony on behalf of their client, but Judge Lewis made a remarkable speech. Czolgosz showed no signs of emotion when he heard the verdict. He maintained his indifference and unconcerned air.

Stood By Her Colors.

Mrs. Martha Bullock Roosevelt, the mother of President McKinley, was a Southern woman. During the civil war her home was in New York City. It was a time when feeling ran high, and any hint of disloyalty was not tolerated, and it was not safe for any one to show a leaning to the South. The incident narrated below was subsequently told by Mrs. Roosevelt herself, during a visit to her friends in the South after the war had closed.

Theodore Roosevelt, the father of the President, decided about that time to give some great social function. The Roosevelt mansion was accordingly lavishly decked in bunting and with United States flags. From every window, save one, flew the stars and stripes. That exception was Mrs. Roosevelt's boudoir window. Her husband had not desired to omit it from the decorative scheme, but she had a decorative plan of her own.

Stopping not to consider the peril in which it might place her and her husband, she drew from among the cherished treasures the stars and stripes of the Confederacy. Going to the window she firmly fixed its staff and allowed its folds to flutter to the breeze.

On the instant, almost, the hostile ensign was noted. In no indignation one observer pointed it out to another, and a crowd speedily grew, as crowds will. Soon the street was choked with angry people, who shook threatening fists at the Confederate flag and invoked most bitterly.

Alarmed at the gathering that was swelled by every moment and which directed its wrath against his house, Mr. Roosevelt sought the cause that had started the people to anger. He was not long in finding it. Fierce acclaim directed his gaze, which rested upon the fluttering emblem of the South.

The Roosevelt's nature has never equalled before a crowd. Theodore, the elder, saw that imminent danger could be averted only through persuading his wife to remove the objectionable flag. With a word to the crowd he entered the house to find his wife. He told her what she already knew—that the anger of the crowd had been excited by her indiscreet display of the Southern colors, and said that it would be well for her to take the flag down.

"I shall not do so," said the mother of the President. "The flag is mine; the boudoir is mine. I love the flag; it represents my native land. Explain to them that I am a Southern woman; that I love the South. Do anything you like except touch the flag. I shall not come down."

And it did not. Theodore Roosevelt went again to face the crowd. He drew with him upon his wife's love for her native land and moiled the gathering to his will and to an indulgence of Mrs. Roosevelt in her desire to fly the flag of her beloved South. The crowd dispersed. The story remains to show a maternal quality that has made a President.

Bryan's Tribute to McKinley.

Hon. William J. Bryan paid the following tribute to the dead President:

"The terrible deed at Buffalo, rudely breaking the ties of family and friendship and horrifying every patriotic citizen, crowns a most extraordinary life with a halo that cannot but exalt its victim's place in history. His bravery during the trying ordeal, his forgiving spirit and his fortitude in the trying hours give glimpses of his inner life which nothing less tragic could have revealed. But inexpressible sad as is the death of Maj. McKinley, the illustrious citizen, it is the damnable murder of McKinley, the President, that melts seventy-five million hearts into one and brings a hush to the farm, the factory and the forum.

"No one can estimate the far-reaching effect of such an act as that which now casts a gloom over our land. It shames America in the eyes of the world. It impairs her moral prestige and gives the enemies of free government a chance to mock at her, and it excites indignation which, while righteous in itself, may lead to acts which will partake of the spirit of lawlessness. As the President's death overwhelms all in a common sorrow, so it imposes a common responsibility, namely, to so avenge the wrong done to the President, his family and country as to make executive life secure without abridging freedom of speech or freedom of press."

Cuba And Palma.

It has taken a long time for the Cubans to get together on a political proposition, but their own southern natures and the great variety of questions that have come before them since the Spanish-American War being ample excuses for the greatest divergence of opinions among selfish and partisan leaders.

Dispatches from Havana indicate that this formative period in politics has practically passed with the endorsement of the platform prepared by Senator Palma, the head of the Cuban Junta which did so much for the island's cause in this country. The platform was written in reply to a number of questions asked by the leaders in all the parties now existing in Cuba.

It is to Cuba's credit that so much confidence is placed in Senator Palma. He has not been aligned with any particular party throughout the period of his services to his country. All who know him respect him as a man with high ideals, much practical knowledge and intense devotion to Cuba. He is patriotically unselfish, neither asking nor expecting any reward for the good work accomplished under his direction. Cuba can count itself fortunate in having such a thoroughly equipped man at command. The platform which he formulated is reported to be in harmony with the best thought in this country and Cuba on the many issues that will arise before the new Government. Out of twenty-five party leaders gathered in Conference last week, all but two are reported to have agreed on this platform, with the purpose of supporting Palma as a candidate for the first President for the Republic. This action of the leaders is said to assure his election by a nearly unanimous vote.

Palma's chief objection to the use of his name as a candidate was that he would not have a majority in the law-making division of the Government to support his policies. The general acceptance of his views has cleared away this trouble. Cuba can anticipate an able, perhaps brilliant, first administration.—St. Louis Republic.

Opportunity.

In one of the old Greek cities stood a unique statue. It bore an epigram which, perhaps brilliant, and enforced the lesson the sculptor intended to teach. The inscription, still preserved, is a conversation between a traveler and the statue, and runs thus:

"What is thy name, O statue?"

"I am called opportunity."

"Who made thee?"

"Lysippus."

"Why art thou standing on thy toes?"

"To show that I stand but for a moment."

"Why hast thou wings on thy feet?"

"To show how quickly I pass by. But why is thy hair so long on thy forehead?"

"That men may seize me when they meet me."

"Why then is thy head so bald behind?"

"To show that when I have once past, I can not be caught."

A Loving Wife's Tribute.

A few months before his death, Mrs. McKinley, in talking to a friend, bore the following tribute to her husband: "To appreciate him one must know him as I do, and I am not speaking now of Maj. McKinley as the President. I am speaking of him as my husband. If anyone could know what it is to have a wife sick, complaining always, an invalid for twenty-five years, seldom a day well, and yet never a word of unkindness has ever passed his lips; he is just the same tender, thoughtful, kind gentleman I knew when first he came and sought my hand. I know him because I am his wife, and it is my proudest pleasure to say this, not because he is the President, but because he is my husband. I love to see him among the people whom he seeks to serve so faithfully. I read all his speeches. I only wish I could help him as I should. But he is so kind, so good, so patient. He gives me all the time he can. He never forgets me, no matter how busy he is. But I will be glad when he is out of public life. I did not want him to run a second time. I thought he had done enough for the country, and now I know he has done enough, and when his term expires he will come home and we will settle down quietly and he will belong to me."

England's Crisis.

According to the statements contained in a recent letter from Cape Town, published in the London Daily Express, conditions in South Africa are sufficiently to justify the gravest apprehension on the part of the British Government and people.

This letter asserts that the Boers still in the field against the English forces have overrun the Cape Colony; that they are on both railway lines and within forty miles of Cape Town itself. Practically, the letter asserts, the Dutch element in the Colony is in revolt. So menacing is the situation that the town guard of Capetown have been required to hand in their magazine rifles and ammunition, Martini-Henry being sent out instead.

Recent successes of the Boers in the field add to the gravity of the present situation in that they must necessarily encourage the Cape Colony Dutch to take up arms against the British. This means, now that the South African summer is just beginning, that the British again confront a most difficult proposition in their war for dominion in South Africa. It is not by any means a remote probability that a general Afrikaner revolt may yet develop the sending out of large reinforcements of English troops if England is even to hold the Cape Colony as subject territory.

It is also certain that Russia, with France as ally, is now more than ever disposed to take advantage of England's troubles in South Africa by forcing an issue with regard to Turkey, and possibly by pursuing an aggressive course on the frontiers of India.

It is Russia's opportunity, and France seems willing to play into the Muscovite hand. The present outlook for momentous happenings in Europe is anything but satisfactory from the British viewpoint.—St. Louis Republic.

Notice of New Trial.

Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin has served on Caleb Powers and his attorneys at Georgetown notice of the filing of the mandate of the Court of Appeals reversing the judgment of life imprisonment in his case and the ordering of a new trial. The case will be called in the South Circuit Court at the October term, and Mr. Franklin does not intend that Powers shall escape trial on a technicality as Howard did in the Franklin Circuit Court.

Separate waists of cashmere, albatross, vicuña, and Scotch and French flannel will be worn this autumn. The colors most used will be bright and dark red, tan, the light, dark and French blues, gray, pink and dark and reseda green. Buttons of steel, gilt and white and smoked pearl will be used on the new waists, long shoulder seams and stitched or tacked fronts, with long-waisted and slightly belted effects. The latest sleeve is a bishop shape with a trifle more fullness at the top than that of last year. The wristbands are made large enough to allow the hands to slip through. The neck of the dress is now seen on almost all waists, particularly the more dressy ones.

The First Citizen.

The determination of President Roosevelt to maintain the traditions of first citizen rather than the panoply of constitutional ruler will be approved by all men who have not lost their heads. Before the death of the late president, a secret service man who had taken up the vice president's steps, was ordered off. The first act of the new president, upon finding himself covered, was to ask the privilege of an independent walk free from espionage. These two incidents go to show that President Roosevelt will not be driven into doubtful expedients and that he is not prepared to say that an American president cannot move about among his own people without the guards rendered necessary in royalty. The facts of the case fully justify the decision of the president. The assassin is not a condition—it is an exception. Wherever he appears, neither generals nor troops can anticipate him. President Carnot had at his back 30,000 men when the assassin climbed into his carriage. Czar Alexander of Russia was surrounded by 50,000 men when he lost his life to violence. Neither walks nor generals nor troops can anticipate the evils.

In every case in which assassination has entered the white house, it has been by men who had thrown off all religious restraints and were governed only by their own sweet will. Booth was a dispassionate free-liver; Giteau was really an anarchist, though he did not know it; and Czolgosz has openly declared himself an adherent of this atrocious cult. The anarchist is the man who has first thrown off all allegiance to God, from which it is but an easy step to throw off allegiance to government. In fact, government owes its strength in civilized countries to the belief that it is the earthy support of that authority which is finally vested in God. All Christians believe that coincident with their belief in godheads goes fidelity to the head of state. There is between the two such an union as can only be discovered by most grave cause—nothing short of an abandonment of its duty to the government itself. The free thinker in religion is also a free thinker in his notions of government allegiance. The man that antagonizes government antagonizes society, and finally the family unit which renders the state possible. Sometimes there may be found a free thinker who has not been quite able to throw off the environment Christianity has wrapped round about him, and who claims credit for his principles for a condition he has not been able to escape. But the final end of the free thinker, who throws off all divine restraint, is that anarchism which applies the same rebellion to worldly government.

What is wanted above laws and courts and sheriffs is that strong religious integrity by which the pioneers were marked, who did right from motives of religion and were very glad afterwards to find that this action was also in harmony with law. The earnestness of a Jesse Mercer, who spoke boldly with the Bible as his text; the ardent appeals of a Lovick Pierce, who understood not the methods of equivocation—this is the sort of religious fervor that will stamp out anarchy and anarchies. Give us a season of revival in the earnestness of the fathers; make these strong principles dominate personal conduct, and thus maintain that American manhood which courts the lights of open day.—Atlanta Constitution.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend and said of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy. The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale in a large measure to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by M. Craven.

The Ohio Democratic campaign will open October 28.

Eight of the jurors who convicted Guitau for murdering President Garfield, are yet living.

Six ministers of Ohio have been warned by anarchists to not again speak words of enology of the dead President.

Safe robbers are getting in their work. At Adairville, Logan county, last week, they blew open a safe, getting $500 in cash and a lot of postage stamps.

Eugene Montgomery, a colored man of Danville, who murdered his child in order to receive a few dollars of insurance, will serve a life time in the penitentiary.

Cezlogoz, the assassin, will be electrocuted the last week in this month. After sentence had been pronounced, and in answer to interrogatories he stated that he alone planned and carried out his purpose to murder the President.

W. J. Bryan says that the bullet of an anarchist can not overthrow our government, nor can it settle public questions. Our government rests securely upon the good will of the people, and public questions will be settled by the intelligence and patriotism of the people.

The case against Caleb Powers will again be tried in the Scotts Circuit Court beginning the first Monday in this month. It is said that there will be much additional testimony, but the time in trying will be considerably shorter than the first trial. Ex-Gov. Brown and Hon. W. C. Owens are no longer in the case as attorneys for Powers.

The Masonic Fraternity and the Odd Fellows throughout the country are coming down on whisky drinkers. The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows was in session at Indianapolis a few days ago, and decided that a hotel-keeper, with a bar attached, was not eligible for membership. The Masons of Kentucky are knocking whisky drinkers as fast as they reach them.

Rev. W. K. Piner has been transferred from the Louisville Conference to the Tennessee Conference. He will preach for a large church in Memphis.

The Democratic candidates for United States Senator have declared off their appointments for joint discussion. A wise conclusion.

Chief of Police Williams, of Frankfort, Arthur Goebel and others arrived in Indianapolis last Friday with requisition papers for Taylor and Pinfley. The Governor of Indiana held a conference with the Kentuckians, and fixed an hour for another meeting. His decision will probably be given in a day or two. It is generally believed here that he will protect the fugitives.

The regiment that was commanded by the late Col. E. H. Hobson held a reunion at Bluff Boon, Green county, last week. It was an interesting meeting, many old soldiers being present. Gen. Hobson was loved by all his men, and the eulogies passed upon his memory were many and very pathetic. During the session Mr. John Hobson, son of the late General, was made an honorary member of the association.

The Schley court of inquiry refused a request of Rear Admiral Sampson to be allowed to be represented at the court by counsel. The court held that the Rear Admiral was not at this time regarded as a party in the case. Lieut. John Wood and Capt. Bowman, H. McCalla were the principal witnesses Friday. In the main their testimony was a unfavorable to Schley.

Abraham Lincoln's casket, which was opened at Springfield, Ill., last Thursday and eighteen persons gazed upon the features of the first martyred President. It is stated that the body was in a fine state of preservation. The remains were taken up for removal to the final spot selected by Col. Rob. Lincoln, and this removal makes the thirteenth time since the body was first consigned to the tomb.

The will of President McKinley was offered for probate at Canton last Friday. Mrs. McKinley declined the administration of the estate and recommended the appointment of Secretary Cortelyou and Judge Day. The will is dated October 22, 1897. It bequeaths all his estate to his wife, save that a provision is made for an annuity of $1,000 to his mother, since deceased. Upon the death of Mrs. McKinley the estate is to go to his brother and sister, share and share alike. The estate is worth from $225,000 to $250,000, including $97,000 insurance.

The Court of Appeals will give a decision, in a few days in the Pratt-Brookridge case argued before that court last week. It will be remembered that Mr. Pratt is the only one of the Republicans who refused to join the proceedings by which they all lost, and he alone, appealed to the highest court of our State. We can not foreshadow the opinion, but standing out of the ring of conspirators; willing to abide legal decisions and to take legal procedure for a redress of his grievances, Pratt is entitled to the respect of all good people whether he loses or wins.

The great Interstate Fair at Louisville opened last Monday under most auspicious circumstances with nearly 80,000 people in attendance, and it has steadily increased since then with every prospect of thousands being added to it daily during the two weeks. The program for this week is one of exceptional merit and has already attracted a great many people from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Southern Indiana and Ohio. The cattle exhibit is admitted by all breeders to be the most complete ever seen in the South. The Hereford and Short-horn classes have filled remarkably well and some of the best bred cattle in the United States are here. The Hereford sale began yesterday morning, and the first sale made was a bull calf for $1,250. It belonged to Giltner Bros. of Eminence and was purchased by F. V. Simpson, of Nuyt, Ky. Fancy prices ruled and the sale and a number of highly bred cattle changed hands.

The Danville Advocate has done the correct thing. You can not make a Republican out of a Democrat. They are not built that way. On account of certain issues the Advocate "blew the coop," so to speak, but last week in a column and a quarter editorial, double-headed, the paper again enters the gate and will advocate Democratic principles and the election of Democratic candidates as in days of yore. The Advocate is an influential paper, and we are glad that its editor has seen the error of his way and has returned to his first love.

Politics in Lincoln county are getting most too warm to be healthy. Last week the Interior Journal drew the Republican candidate for Sheriff across the coals for his utterance against Goebel immediately after the gentleman was shot by assassin. Soon after the paper was out the Democratic candidate for sheriff was met by the Republican candidate and asked if he did not furnish the editor with the information. The reply was I did or words to that effect, and the d-d he followed. Immediately the Republican candidate was spread upon the ground, and farther trouble was averted by the interference of friends.

There has been some speculation as to what will become of Commissioner Yerkes under the present administration. A Washington dispatch throws this light upon the subject: "Every indication points to the fact that Commissioner of Internal Revenue John W. Yerkes will remain in his present position and will also be the Washington representative of Kentucky Republican politics. When President McKinley died there were intimations that Mr. Yerkes would hand in his resignation as commissioner, and also be displaced as the dictator of Republican politics in Kentucky. Those who were making these predictions hinted that Leslie M. Combs would be the boss in Kentucky. They had an idea Combs would have all to say about the Collector of Internal Revenue at Louisville, and that he would also be consulted upon expected changes in the Federal offices in Kentucky. Apparently this will not happen."

The political situation in Louisville indicates good for that city and good for the State. The dictatorial methods of Ross Sapp has knocked out every vestige of hope for the Republicans and it is concluded that the Democratic nominees will win beyond a doubt. The Democrats who refused to follow the lead of Mr. Goebel on the grounds that he did not get his nomination in a quiet way, that he snarled power and took the lead without their consent are now forced, by Sapp's methods, to come back to their own party and support its nominees. The best element of the Republicans who can not endorse Bossism and wholesale corruption are in line with the Democrats and the result is not uncertain. It will be a victory—a vindication to correct political methods. Such is the situation in Louisville and throughout the State. In 1890 thousands of Democrats could not accept the Chicago Democratic platform, in 1898 thousands could not endorse and support our nominees for State offices and their demand for a reorganization of our party, for a free and fair showing of all candidates have resulted in much good to the party in this State. There are no signs of bossism, no charges of frauds to obtain prestige in party affairs by any of our prominent politicians in this State. The tickets in the city have been selected by the fairest methods that man could devise and in the country the old fashion of letting the voters select their candidates have brought union of sentiment and union of action. There is no earthly reason why any true Democrat, that is a man who believes in the great principles of Democracy, should longer stay out of the fold. With the issues of the past out of the way, with the methods of party candidates buried and with the history of our opponents staring us in the face we can not see why Democratic principles, though they have been blighted and dwarfed by the upholders of the past, should not now come to the true situation that confronts the party and the State.

A guard at the vault of the late President McKinley fired upon a man Sunday night who was prowling around where the body is resting. Another man, who was masked, attacked the guard and cut him slightly. It is believed that an attempt was made to blow up the vault with dynamite.

Stood Death Off.
E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta Tex., once fooled a brave-degger. He said: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malarial bile, kills disease germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates the liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervousness, drives kidney troubles, female complaints, drives perfect health. Only 50c at T. E. Paul's drugstore.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. J. F. Smith and family, who have been in Louisville, Ky., for the last Sunday at Red Rock.

Dr. T. J. Jones, Montpelier, was in town Monday.

Mr. W. S. Knight, Jamestown, was here last week.

Misses Sallie and Mammie Baker are visiting in Louisville.

Mr. W. L. Walker returned from the market last Saturday night.

Mr. A. G. Norris, Louisville, was in Columbia a few days ago.

Mr. J. B. Bally came in from Horse Cave one day last week.

Mr. Ed. Miller, Crocus, was here, taking orders, last Thursday.

Misses Marvin Vaughan, Eunice, was shopping in Columbia last week.

Mr. Timmie Wells, Russell Springs, is visiting Mrs. J. F. Montgomery.

Mr. Matthew Armstrong, Owensboro, was in Columbia last week.

Mr. Henry Hurt carried Dick Lee Hardin to the penitentiary Monday.

Mr. Ben J. Franklin, of Washington, D. C., is visiting his sister, Mrs. T. F. Walton.

Mr. J. R. Beauchamp, an attorney from Elizabethtown, was in Columbia last Saturday.

Mr. Fred Robinson and Miss Willis White will visit Monticello the last of this week.

Mr. Abner Jones, Jamestown, was here Monday with several head of horses for sale.

Messrs. T. R. Morrison and H. H. Dunbar, Jamestown, attended the old fiddlers contest.

Messrs. W. R. Lyon and Mc C. Goode, Campbellsville, called on our merchants a few days ago.

Mr. Basil Chapman, a prominent young farmer and trader of Greenville, spent last Sunday in Columbia.

Mr. F. P. Bryant and Lettie, his daughter, and Miss Ermine Bryant gave the News office a call last Thursday.

Messrs. John D. Lowe and Mitchell Barlow returned last Saturday from a two week's trip through Palau county.

Mr. W. G. Cundiff and wife are making preparation to leave for Texas, and will probably start in the next few days.

Mr. Robt. Vardeman, who visited Mrs. Jas. Garrett, Jr., left for her home in Vandalia, Missouri, last Friday morning.

Mr. Sallie McLean and Mr. Fred Lean, who have been visiting the former's daughter in Arkansas, returned home last week.

Mr. Geo. Lee, who has been a citizen of Taylor county for a quarter of a century, will remove with his family to Danville. Mr. Lee is a native of Boyle county.

Misses Starlight and Phoebe Smith, who have had long spells of typhoid fever, are recovering. A younger sister is also down with the disease.

Mr. C. S. Harris left on a business trip for Big Stone Gap and other points in Virginia yesterday morning. He will be absent several weeks.

Mrs. Emma T. Strange, who has been in the markets for several weeks, returned home Thursday night. She is now ready to bid orders for millinery.

Mr. W. W. Anderson visited his niece and nephew, Mrs. E. G. Atkins and Miss M. W. Walford, and Mr. Geo. Walford the last of the week. It had been ten years since Mr. Anderson had been in Columbia, and he was perfectly delighted with his visit.

Mr. Anna Stone left Monday morning for Hillsboro, Texas, where she will spend some time with her son, Mr. T. Y. Chandler. She will also visit her stepson, Mr. Porter Stranahan, who is in business at Frost, Texas, and will return home about Christmas.

Miss Mattie Walker, of Jacksonville, Ill., who has been visiting in Columbia for the last four days, left Columbia last Thursday for her home. Miss Walker was delighted with this country and especially with the people whose hospitality is unbounded. While here she visited the Mammoth Cave, taking in both routes of that tremendous cavern. She visited forty families of her relatives in this country, and is so doing met 180 of her cousins. Her stay in Adams county was in every way pleasant and on her departure she expressed her regret that she could not stay longer.

The many friends of Mr. D. H. Butler will regret that he has decided to remove from Columbia to Sacramento, Ky. This step is taken on account of Mrs. Butler's parents who are anxious for their daughter to come and live with them. While we regret to give up Mr. Butler and his estimable family, Muhlenberg county is the gainer. Mr. Butler is a fine business man, perfectly reliable, and whatever he undertakes to do he does well. He has been in the mercantile business in Columbia for many years, and is a merchant of excellent taste and a splendid buyer. Mr. Butler has not determined the business he will engage in at Sacramento.

LOCAL JOTTINGS.

Court of claims is in session.

It is just one month until the election.

A list of the officers of election is published in to-day's News.

Columbia Chapter No. 7 will meet next Monday night.

Saturday week will be pay day for the teachers of the county.

The Democrats and Republicans are active and a full vote will be brought out.

Mr. Tim Bradshaw and Miss Edie Bradshaw have an "ad" in today's paper. Read what they have to say.

A telephone exchange would be of a great convenience to the citizen of Columbia and we hope one will be put in.

School trustees for the common school districts will be elected throughout the county next Saturday afternoon.

During the present session of the Adair Fiscal Court the building of a bridge across Green river, at Neatsville, will be discussed.

The Columbia Furniture Company is doing a good business. They have a splendid stock on hand and invite their friends to call and see them.

During the Russell Springs Fair Mr. J. V. White, of this place, lost his watch. Last week it was delivered to him by a young man of the county.

Mrs. J. O. Russell is in receipt of a sprig of heather sent by Mrs. Chas. B. Long from Edinburgh, Scotland. It is a rare plant and is in Scotland producing a small berry.

Rev. M. B. W. Granger, principal of the M. E. F. S. school, attended the Presbyterian Church last Sunday, forenoon and evening.

Chas. Hays, Jas. Keith and James Shelton, who resided in the Glenview court, have sold their property and removed to Oklahoma. Mr. A. L. Loy purchased Mr. Keith's land, forty-eight and one-half acres, for $120.

The store-house of J. O. Russell, Greenville, was entered by thieves last Saturday night and several dollars worth of goods stolen. Two negroes who passed through Columbia Sunday morning are suspected, and an officer of Greenville is on their trail.

There was some misunderstanding about Rev. Adams' appointment to preach at the Methodist church, in this place, last Sunday night, and the colored gentleman declined to speak. Charge audience had assembled to hear him.

A large barn, the property of Bob Williams, near Danville, was destroyed by fire last Sunday night. It was filled with provender and the loss is considerable. This makes the third barn Mr. Williams has lost here in the last three years. In all the barns incendiaryism is charged. Mr. Williams telephoned here for bloodhounds Monday morning, but there were none in town.

The people of the Glenview country were grieved last Friday afternoon upon learning of the death of Mrs. Corda Blair, a young woman twenty-three years of age. She was a daughter of Mr. Robt. Burdette, who died a number of years ago, and had been married about one year. She was a very estimable lady, a favorite in the neighborhood, and will be greatly missed in the community where she was born and reared. She was a victim of pulmonary trouble.

Receipts.

The prospects for a large school at the M. E. F. S. High School building has been better than for some time. The opening was light, but pupils are regularly coming in, and when the common schools close every room in the building will be occupied. Those who are now in attendance speak in the highest terms of Prof. Granger and his teaching. In view of the methods of teaching, and the fact that the school will be a success from start to finish.

Several new residences have been erected by the corporate limits of Columbia. The last two months and a half have been the best kept in the city, and the people are evidently going to succeed. The Municipal corporation from Reed & Miller has desire to start a telephone exchange, and other enterprises will be pushed to the front. So our streets have been recently improved and new avenues will evidently have to be opened. The town has a steady and substantial growth and all classes of business is on the increase.

Rev. W. B. Cave, of this city, assisted by Rev. J. H. Rife, of Monroe City, Mo., closed a very successful meeting at Zion, this county, several weeks ago. Rev. Rife well-known in this county, having held previously two meetings at this church, and large congregations were out to hear him. The sermons were strong, forcible and convincing. During the progress of the meeting six persons united with the Church by experience and baptism. Life is especially liked by the Baptists and the public generally in Adams county, and he will be given a hearty welcome upon any future visit. Following the Zion meeting Rev. Cave opened one at Gradyville assisted by J. C. Cook, of Hart county. The immediate results of this meeting were other conversions, twelve of whom have connected themselves with the church of their choice, and the remainder will identify with religious bodies at the earliest opportunity. The church at Gradyville was greatly revived and many old sinner in the neighborhood healed.

A large stock of ready-made skirts and skirt patterns at Russell & Murrell's.

Corn cutting and sorghum making is occupying the time of some of our farmers.

Call and see the new furniture just finished by the Columbia Furniture and Planing Mill Co.

The first sermon for this conference will be preached at the Methodist church, this city, next Sunday.

It is said that a great deal of brandy is being made in Russell county. But little will be made in Adams county.

Our stock of Ladies', Misses' and children's Cloaks comes in all the latest styles.

The Bear Head Brand Fertilizers from $60 to $20 per hundred at R. W. Hurt's, Gadbury, Ky., or Columbia, Ky.

Murrell & McLean will put up a residence for Mr. Allen Pile on College street. The work will start in a few days.

Dr. Barg will be at the Hancock Hotel on Wednesday evening. Any one desiring to see the Dr. should be sure and call before the 4th of Oct.

All who are indebted to Jones & Grisson for blacksmithing will please come and settle.

C. C. Jones.

"Bull Duck" and Ed Miller, colored, were tried last Monday for whipping their mother. They were given them fifty days on the rock pile and fined them thirty-five dollars each.

Dick Lee Hardin, of who, who was given one year in the penitentiary for striking Mont Montgomery, with a rock, was brought from the jail Friday and sentenced by Judge Jones.

Our Fall Stock is here, ready for your inspection. It is our aim to furnish the best goods for the least money. We have bargains. Come and see us.

Russell & Murrell.

Kemp & Young sell the best Fertilizer on the market. Come and get what you need. They are getting the close prices on all grades. They guarantee the Horse Shoe Brand to be the best.

Tazewell (Tenn.) Progress, a copy of which we received last week, states that Messrs Carl & Harris have returned from market and are on elegant stock of Millinery with prospects of doing a big business.

Don't send away from home for a sewing machine, but let us furnish you a better machine for less money. We have the latest and best of the standard makes.

Russell & Murrell.

The fertilizers that have stood the test for years; that are wheat and grass growers and the best for the building up of land, are the Home-made, Globe and National brands. These are now better. Get our prices.

W. J. Jeffries & Son, Columbia, Ky.

I have just returned from the wholesale market, where I have purchased the largest and most elegant stock of Millinery ever shown in Columbia. My goods are now on display. All are invited to call.

Receipts.

Mrs. Emma T. Stranahan.

Ed. Z. T. Williams assisted Ed. J. Montgomery in a meeting at Liberty last week. Much interest was manifested and there were several additions to the church. This morning was in progress the same thing at Liberty, spread a test upon the square and gave a show afternoon and evening.

We learn from the Glasgow Times that Dr. G. A. Thomas & Son, Horse Cave, have been sued for $5,000 damage for malpractice. A lawyer, named Harvey, who resides at Brownsville, Edmonson county, is the plaintiff in the case. The Times' statement can be found on our fourth page.

A report reaches here that Henry Murrell, of color, a native of this country, was arrested at Junction City last week for breaking open a trunk and taking several dresses and other articles of value. Henry left a fair day, forty-eight hours, as we are informed, and a striking man, striking him upon the head.

Messrs. W. B. Cave, of this city, assisted by Rev. J. H. Rife, of Monroe City, Mo., returned from a very successful meeting at Zion, this county, several weeks ago. Rev. Rife well-known in this county, having held previously two meetings at this church, and large congregations were out to hear him. The sermons were strong, forcible and convincing. During the progress of the meeting six persons united with the Church by experience and baptism. Life is especially liked by the Baptists and the public generally in Adams county, and he will be given a hearty welcome upon any future visit. Following the Zion meeting Rev. The immediate results of this meeting were other conversions, twelve of whom have connected themselves with the church of their choice, and the remainder will identify with religious bodies at the earliest opportunity. The church at Gradyville was greatly revived and many old sinner in the neighborhood healed.

Columbia Wins.

The next Louisville Conference of Kentucky Methodists will be held at Columbia. Several cities and towns made a fight for the next annual gathering, but this city carried off the plum. The following dispatch conveyed the first news to the citizens of Columbia:

"Bowling Green, Ky., Sept. 30.

"M. H. Marcom,

"Columbia, Ky.

"Next Conference goes to Columbia. Hindman's speech did it."

"JOHN W. PAULEY."

Osteopathy.

Dr. A. C. Foster, a graduate of the Southern School of Osteopathy, is now located in Columbia for the practice of his profession. Osteopathy is comparatively new in this part of the State, but having been practiced in other parts of the United States for more than twenty years, I judge most every one has heard of its wonderful success with cases that heretofore have been incurable by other systems of healing. Osteopathy treats most all forms of chronic cases known to be curable, and some that were thought to be incurable before the days of Osteopathy. It has obtained a most enviable reputation in the treatment of fevers, most especially typhoid. Osteopathy bears no relation whatever to Christian Science, Magnetic healing or faith cure, but is scientific, being based upon knowledge of the principles of anatomy and physiology.

Those who are suffering with diseases from which they can get no relief by the use of drugs, would do well to investigate the possibilities of Osteopathy in the cure of disease.

Consultation and examination can be had free by calling upon me.

Dr. A. C. Foster,

Office in Marcom Hotel, Columbia, Kentucky.

Hughes & Coffey's Possessions.

It is not the mission of this paper to advertise other sections of country nor is it our desire that the good citizens of this country take up their abode in the West, but in view of the fact that thousands of Kentuckians are leaving the home-lands for exciting regions beyond the Mississippi, and inasmuch as this condition exists, we see no impropriety in unravelling the details prevalent through this country. "On the rich plains of the West." The crowded condition of many of the old States, the high price of lands and the unprofitableness of a large portion of the country, induce thousands of the best citizens of the South and West to better their condition by locating in the Western country. The inducements of that section are taken from the old communities a large portion of the most progressive manhood and centralizing in a wonderful productive region, of our common country, a class of citizens that will in a few years, make it blossom as the rose. In all that Western country, that holding out inducements for immigration, probably none of the States or territories equals Oklahoma. In general solid investigations for the progressive citizens of other States. Its inexhaustible fertility bids fair to soon be under the control of skillful and industrious farmers; its location in the heart of a great country, and inviting climate are irresistible to manufacturers and its resources agricultural, mineral and manufacturing give it a future unsurpassed and have induced promoters and builders of railroads who are checking that whole country with important lines of travel. In its development and in maintaining its prestige over many adjacent sections. At present, towns are looking up along all the important railroads and business in all lines active and inviting.

Messrs. Hughes & Coffey, of this city, who planned a few thousand dollars in Oklahoma real estate last year, struck it at a good time and at the right place, for they now have a large interest in a new town on the K. C. & O. Railroad, one of the best lines, when completed, in all that country. The name of their town is Blair and it not only has a great agricultural country for its backing but the promoters and owners of this Railroad are largely interested in the Blair town company and will use their money and talents in building and providing business for the progressive city of the West. Today, Blair is a spot only in the most productive section of the West—the railroad has not yet been completed. In a few months a great change will take place, for this is but the history of Western towns, and specially where such powerful interest are behind the development. Lots in this town will soon be placed on the market and if you desire to share in the advance that don't allow fear to step in between you and a property in Blair Oklahoma. Its value if you can't buy here, is just what you are right.

I desire to

Curd.

I desire to thank my most sincere friends for their generous contribution to my visit to their city Blair, during the Kentucky Children's ever remember them, and we will ever be grateful for the assistance of Mr. May God's blessing be upon a and all of the kind people of Columbia.

J. W. GARDNER.

Dist. Supl.

The grand jury was dismissed last Thursday after returning forty-eight indictments.

Last Monday night an assembly of about four hundred people greeted "The Old Time Fiddlers" at the courthouse, and for two hours were entertained with tunes that reminded many of the days of "Auld Lang Sine." There were thirty-five to sixty-eight years, and the program carried out as follows: John W. Biggs, the President, selected Dr. J. S. Rowe, J. Mestown, J. G. Eubank, Capt. W. W. Bradshaw, Dr. O. S. Dunbar, and Sam Royce as judges. Only one player was before the audience at a time, and the judges marked the points he made. They played four tunes each and at the conclusion John W. Biggs, first prize; Jasper Harrison, Bruce, K. second prize; Willis Spencer, Adams county, third prize. The following persons entered the contest: D. Payne, Rocky Hill, Ky.; J. H. Darnell, Gadbury, Ky.; John T. Pedigo, Horse Cave, Ky.; J. V. White, Columbia, Ky. There was evidently a mistake in awarding the prizes. Just how it was made we do not know, but there was kicking, the performers being greatly dissatisfied with the decision. The President, who took the rally sheets and virtually made the decision, admitted to the News that there was a mistake, but there was no way to remedy it. Be that as it may, it was a good entertainment and the audience was satisfied as to music.

At the close of the contest Prof. Harry Kelly and wife, of Louisville, who are traveling with "The Old Timers," rendered several selections of high class music. They are artists of reputation, and their renditions could not fail to please. The company went from here to Burkesville.—Moral.—To give perfect satisfaction to a Columbia audience it is best to announce decisions as judges vote.

Dr. Barg, of Cincinnati, is with us this week, and those needing glasses should make it a point to see him, as this will be his last visit before next May. The doctor can give as reliable advice as the physicians as well as the best citizens of Columbia and vicinity. If you suffer with headache, dizziness, and your eyes pain you, after reading a few minutes, no matter how old or how young you are, in nine cases out of ten the cause is defective vision and you should consult an optician. Dr. Barg will be at the Hancock Hotel from Sept. 30th to October 3rd, giving every body an opportunity to have their eyes tested. No glasses recommended unless needed.

Mr. Wm. Irvin, Camp Knox, called to see us last Monday. He stated that farming and other business about his place was moving along nicely. Tobacco cutting about over and corn chopping in full blast. No serious illness in the neighborhood and preparations being made for wheat sowing. Wood Henderson, who resides in the vicinity, killed a very large rattlesnake a few days ago. It weighed ten pounds, and was a rattlesnake and a butternut. It was cut open and a rattlesnake was a good size squirrel. Mr. J. B. Booker, who is visiting in Missouri, is expected here in a few days. Mr. Irvin was accompanied to Columbia by his little grandson, Master Penick Irvin.

Messrs. Sam F. White and Sam Nat Hancock got out the first issue of their paper at Monticello last Thursday. For some reason a copy did not reach the News until Monday of this week. The name of the paper has been changed from "The Wayne County Record," to "The Monticello Courier." It is a six column quarto, neatly printed and full of interesting and spicy news items. In politics it is Republican. There are many new advertisements, and judging from the first edition the young men are meeting with encouragement necessary to make a country paper go. Here is looking at you boys.

We have a nice line of Parlor Furniture, Crochets, Leather Chairs, Rockers, Diningroom Chairs, Folding Beds, Carpets, Rugs, &c.

Saw-Mill for Sale.

One 20 horse power. Can be seen running in Green county. This is a new mill will sell cheap. For particulars address the Greensburg Lumber Co., Greensburg, Ky.

The grand jury tried for ten days to find the number of drunks about town who are believed to be trafficking in liquor, but the witnesses were all know-nothings. In our judgment if a Government agent would drop in and remain eight or ten days he would do a good business. There is no doubt but this liquor being sold, and it will take a "silly fox" to catch the end of the fenders.

Last week our Gradyville correspondent mentioned the marriage of Mr. W. C. Yates to Miss Carrie Caldwell. The ceremony took place in the Mammoth Cave and was witnessed by quite a number of friends. Mr. Yates is one of Adams' best young men, but at present he is located in Greensburg. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Sid Caldwell, and is a popular and handsome young woman.

Last Sunday afternoon in company with Mr. Jas. Garrett, Jr., and Mr. J. O. Russell we visited the M. E. F. S. High School building and was gratified to note the improvements recently made. The portico has been made all most new and new shutters to the doors and windows have been placed. The fresh painting gives the building a very inviting appearance. The growth of the trees in the campus are now turning forth delightful shade, and upon the high location a pleasant breeze continuously blows.

A great many Columbians remember Mr. F. R. Peeler, who was in College here a great many years ago. He now resides at Lawrensburg and for the past week has been a very anxious man for his wife's recovery, who was horribly burned at her home in that city. She went into the cellar of her dwelling and was killed by a lamp. Mrs. Peeler was a Miss King, and if we are not mistaken, she also attended college here.

It will be remembered that some time ago Mr. Washington Holt, who lives in the White Oak country, was robbed of five hundred dollars in money and they were arrested, charged with the offense. The trial came on and the boys were acquitted. Mark Wilson, who is the father of Ed Wilson, one of the boys charged with the crime, sued Mr. Holt for $500 damages sustained by his son, and last week the case was tried resulting in a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Fall Millinery Opening!

After spending three weeks in Louisville and the principal markets, we have the most complete line of goods ever brought to Columbia and invite our friends to call and see our goods before buying.

The Negro Question

A negro advises his people in Georgia to arm themselves with Winchester. The Southern Industry comments upon this wise (?) advice:

Many of them do this after committing a felony, but it does not seem to do them much good. White criminals also arm themselves, but it never seems to have the negro criminal arm himself. His advice is useless, for he is alone where possible. Does he intend to tell the respectable negro arm themselves? It is unnecessary. The negro with a good character, South is as safe as the white with a good character. Neither a white or black criminal is safe anywhere. Does he intend by his advice to have the blacks arm themselves as a race? Then he is a fool.

For the blacks to turn and defy the Anglo Saxon of the South—or of the North—would simply mean the utter and complete annihilation of the negro race of America. No let the black man alone, he is understood and respected by the white man of the South when he is worthy of respect. There have been cases where innocent blacks have suffered at the hands of a mob. There have also been cases where innocent whites have suffered in the same way. Booker T. Washington, of Tuskegee, Ala., W. H. Council, of Huntsville, Ala., and others of their class, are settling the question along the lines of industrial education and character-building for their race, and we need not fear the future.

Plot Made a Year Ago

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Investigations made today by Police Detective Schumack reveal the startling possibility that a plot to assassinate President McKinley was laid a year or more ago before he was elected for his second term, and that it may have been laid in the peaceful precincts of Orange township, where the Colquhoun family lived.

In his search for his clues today, Detective Schumack learned from the neighboring farmers that the Colquhoun boys, Leon and Waldeck, have been readers of socialist papers for several years. John D. Knox, an aged farmer, who lives in the vicinity of the former Colquhoun farm, said today:

"The two boys, the one that shot the president, and Waldeck, used to come to my house and talk to me about their socialist papers. They brought their papers to me and tried to get me to read them. Once when they were here during the last presidential campaign they got to talking about President McKinley and one of them said:

"If he is elected he will be shot before he serves out his term," and then went on: "I would serve John Rockefeller the same way if I got a chance." They talked violence all the time and I was glad when they left the neighborhood. Almost every night there was a crowd of people from the city at their house."

It is said that Leon's father, sister and brothers are going to Buffalo shortly. From the first Buffalo police and secret service agents of the federal government have been strong in their belief there was a plot, although the Cleveland police have been inclined to doubt the theory. Only the strong elements in the belief of the Buffalo and secret service detectives has been the fact that the handkerchief with which the assassin contacted the hand in which he held his weapon was a woman's handkerchief. What is more important is that the handkerchief was tied about the hand in a way, it is claimed, he would not have been able to tie it himself, no matter how skilled he might have been with the other hand or how much time he might have taken. That Colquhoun had money impelled the detectives to try to learn where he got it. Today his brother, Waldeck Colquhoun, confessed having said to Leon under the name of Fred Snyder at West Seneca, N. Y.

It is said that Leon's father, sister and brother are going to Buffalo shortly, and the police believe when they confront Leon that he will break down and reveal all that is now a mystery in regard to the shooting of the president.

Public sentiment has caused the Republicans to make some sort of declaration against trust and they do it in a very gingerly and equivocal way. At their State Conventions they declare that "while legitimate combinations of capital should be encouraged, all illegitimate combinations should be condemned." The trouble with them is that they never see any illegitimacy in any of the combinations which are doing so much to oppress the people. They would place themselves on a better footing with the masses if they would define the limits of "legitimate" combinations. From the Republican standpoint all trusts are legitimate.

Came Near Dying

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I would surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and did not awake for eight hours. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of this remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say: 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.' This remedy is for sale by M. Craven."

Pete McAllister was killed by a train in Warren county while stealing a ride.

Get Your Money's Worth

It is hard to appreciate the full value of Morley's Wonderful Eight until you have used it in a score of the emergencies that come in every household. Dr. T. E. Barnhart, of Claiborne Parish, La., says: "Permit me to say I have tried Morley's Wonderful Eight and found it a good medicine in Pleurisy and Pneumonia. Nothing equals it in relieving pain." Price 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

Mrs. John Richards, of Hardin county, was found dead in her yard.

Ena What You Like

When you take Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial, for then, dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, flatulence, dizziness and the long train of similar troubles disappear and your cleared and awakened system will demand food. Sound digestion and sound appetite go together, and both follow the use of this time tried remedy. Ask your druggist.

Although the war against the Boers, according to British authority, was virtually over months ago, the Boers continue to capture men and guns from the enemy.

Stung By a Centipede

Mrs. Thos. Saunders, Bluffton, Tex., was stung by a centipede. A doctor was sent for, but before he arrived some sensible friend sent a piece of brown paper with Morley's Wonderful Eight and applied it to the wound. The doctor said his services were not needed, for the poison was neutralized or killed by the Wonderful Eight. Mrs. S. did not suffer from the wound. Sold by agent in every town.

Few animals are being made ready for the beef market throughout the great corn districts, and there is bound to be a great shortage in beef cattle from January to July, 1902. It is reasonable to predict that this shortage will advance prices.

Stood Death Off

E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a grave-digger. He said: "My brother was very low with malaria fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued to use them until he was wholly cured. I am now Electric Bitters' saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills disease germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates the liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50c at T. E. Paul's drugstore.

Some of the Republican wool growers are puzzled. They can't understand why it is that in 1896, under the Cleveland administration, medium grade wool was quoted in the Boston market at 16 to 24 cents per pound, while at the present time the same grades are quoted at 11 to 15 cents.

Working Night and Day

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. These pills cause weakness and strength, increase energy, brain fat into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by T. E. Paul.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Madison, Mo., when the doctors said she would die from Pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of Consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and 10c Trial bottles free T. E. Paul's drug store.

A Shocking Calamity.

"Lately befell a railroad laborer," writes Dr. A. Kellek, of Williford, Ark. "His wife was badly scorched, but Buckley's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It's simply wonderful for Burns, Boils, Piles and all skin eruptions. It's the world's champion healer. Cure guaranteed. 25c. Sold by T. E. Paul."

The stockholders of the Buffalo Exposition have sustained a loss of about a million dollars on account of the blow given to the enterprise by the murder of President McKinley.

Hemmed in a cellar filled with flames and every avenue of escape cut off, Amos Morris, a night watchman, employed at a chemical works in Indianapolis, was burned to death in the presence of a number of people who were powerless to help him. It is supposed the lantern carried by Morris exploded while making his rounds, and set fire to the excelsior, with which the cellar was stored.

The Democratic nominees for county school superintendent in Boone and Boyd counties and the Republican nominees for the same office in Grant and Marion have been selected too late to be examined under the regular rules for a certificate of qualification, and unless they are willing to take a much more difficult examination they will be disqualified.

Shakers Passing Away.

The Shakers, the oldest, most unique and most successful co-operative communities in this country, are going the way of all similar organizations, says a Georgia paper. At New Lebanon, Hancock and West Pittsfield there has been such a loss of membership that it has been necessary to hire help to carry on the business of the communities, and this not being profitable, it is proposed to sell lands and withdraw from many of the industries that in former years yielded large profits.

Jerome Wilson, one of the foremost attorneys of Washington, and principal counsel for Rear Admiral Schley, died suddenly in his apartments last Tuesday. Death was due to acute indigestion. He was in consultation with his associate in the Schley case an hour before his death. His early life was spent in the courts and on the bench in Indiana. He served two terms in Congress and then remained in Washington to practice law.

"It's God's way. He will be done." These were among the last words of President McKinley on his death bed. What a sublime faith! What a touching sermon in a few words. No fear; no repining; no words of reproach against the ministers of sin; no words of life. Only a man who life has been correct and a death in this unflinching way.

TENNESSEE RIDGE.

Some one may be interested in this part of the world—some of its people or its locality.

Tennessee Ridge is so called from the fact, that most of its people or sojourners are originally from Tennessee, and you bet they are a good ways from there now.

Part of the ride is in the county of Casey and the other part in Adair, the Adair part inhabited by Republicans, mostly; but that don't mean the Ridge will always be Republican.

Crops on the ridge are about an average, excepting Irish potatoes. They are no good. The people are all industrious, i. e. abiding citizens and principally good farmers, among whom I mention Thomas Sanders, Walker Absher, Thomas Mills, Wm. Osborn, C. Cooper and others.

The peach season is about over, politics quiet. Wm. Woods infant boy, who has been suffering for some time with a bruised and stiff knee, is improving.

Winfield Woods, who has been under the weather for some time with nervous trouble, is improving.

What is a home? Certainly not a place in which one simply eats and sleeps; one could do that alone in an empty barn. To make a home is to establish a place in which two people who love each other mean to bring their best. Gold and silver can buy and furnish a house but no money can buy a home. The poorest room may become to the occupants a home, rich in treasures of self-denial, consideration and happiness, if only love sits within its portals.

E. M. Harvey, a well-known attorney of Brownsville, Edmonson county, has filed suit against G. A. Thomas & Son, dentists, of Horse Cave, for $5,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the unskillful manner in which defendant dentists did some bridge and cap work on his teeth. He alleges that Thomas & Son are not registered dentists, and that through their unskillfulness he was made to suffer great physical and mental pain to the extent of $5,000.—Glasgow Times.
